

Record G (Table of measurements)

Though not mandatory, a table of the measurements that served as a basis for cave survey drawing can be added. This is especially useful in larger caves where future discoveries are expected. A printout from the cave drawing program can also be enclosed. No specific form is used, but you should always mark the cave name, your name, organization, date, and registry number if known.